TO THE CHILD

A Story of Hallelujah

Why is the old man so miserable?

What gives you hope when you feel miserable?

What do you think the old man could be thinking?

What would you be thinking if it were you?

How is the old man feeling as he unties the parcel?

How do you feel when you have a parcel to open?

What is giving the old man an idea?

Where do your ideas come from?

Why isn't the man hungry?

What kinds of things happen to make you forget meal times?

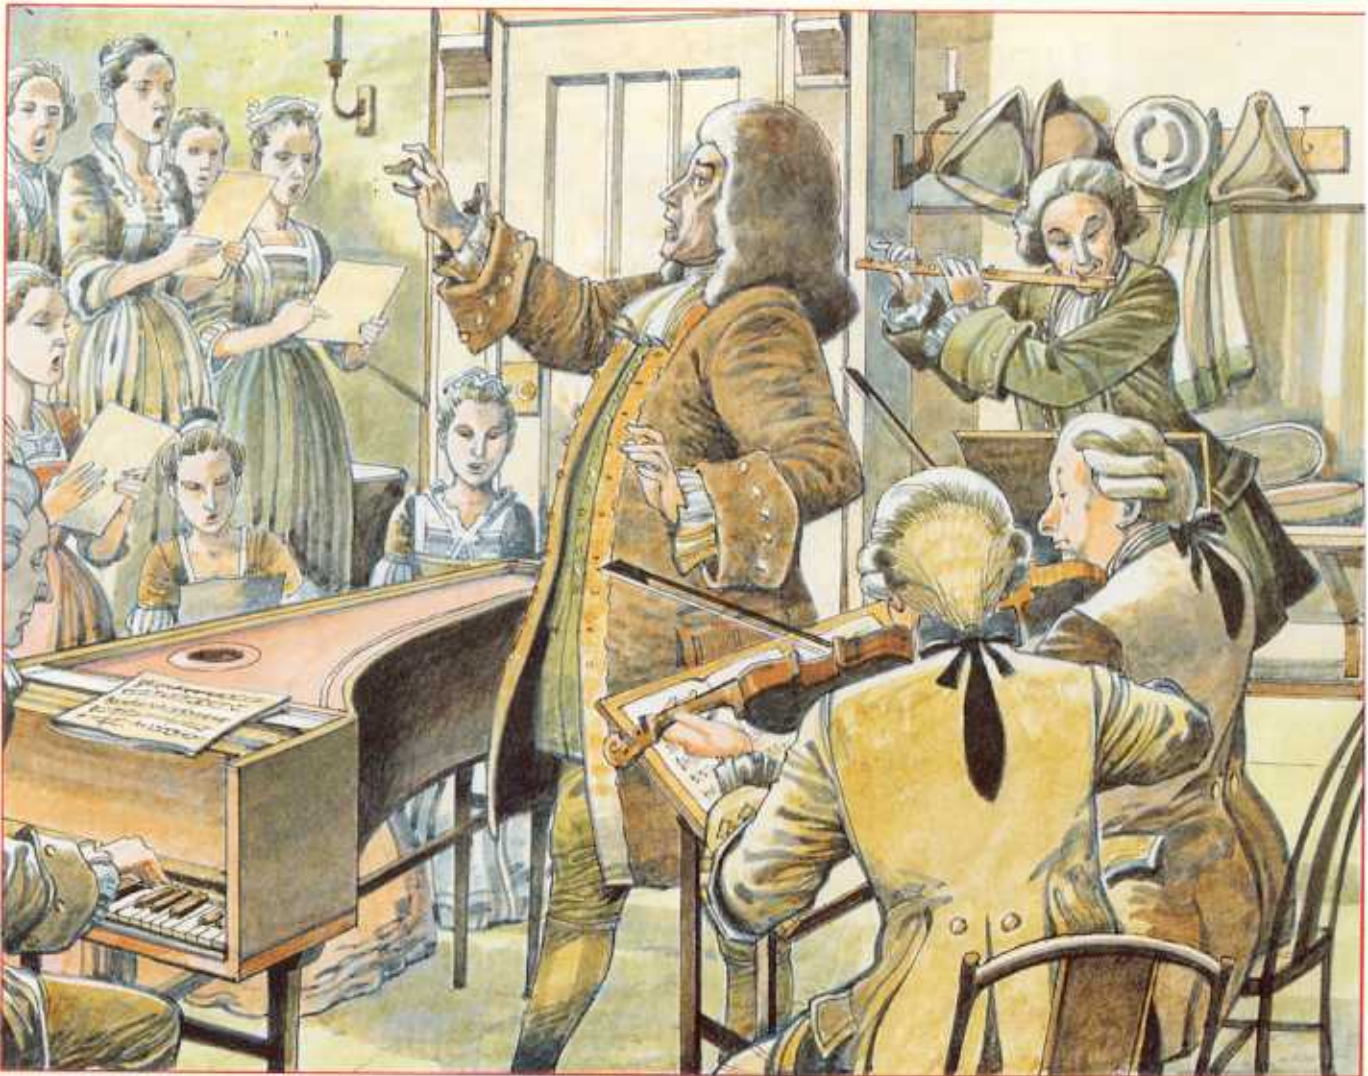

How do you think the servant is feeling?
When do you ever feel like that?

What is it like when you finish something you had to do?

How do you feel when you are getting ready to do something really important?

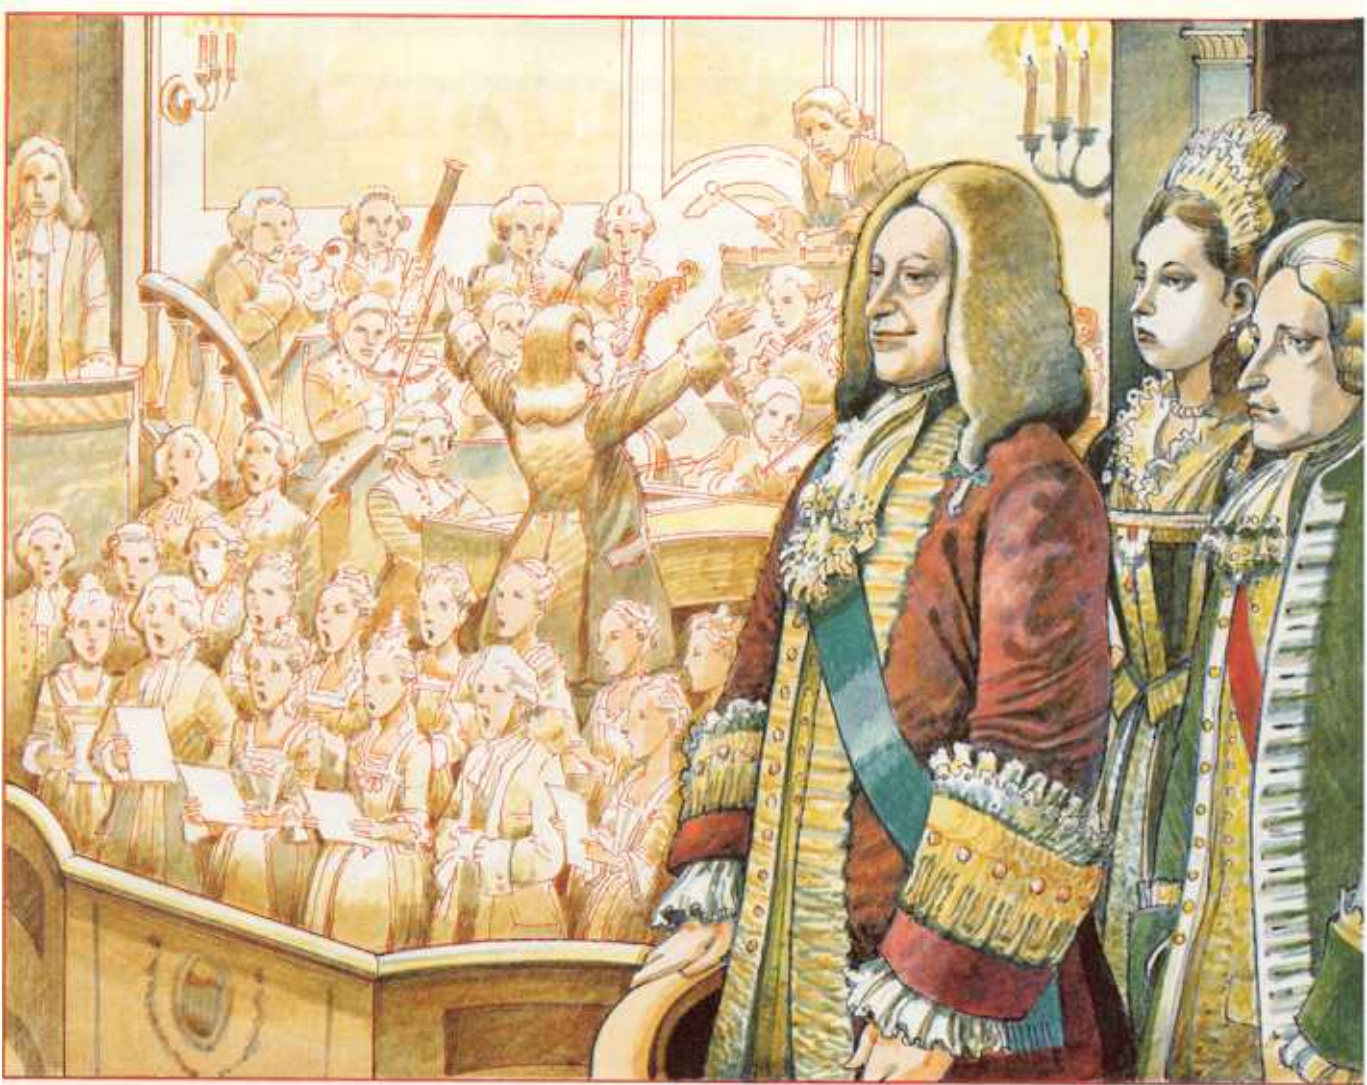

Why is everyone so excited?

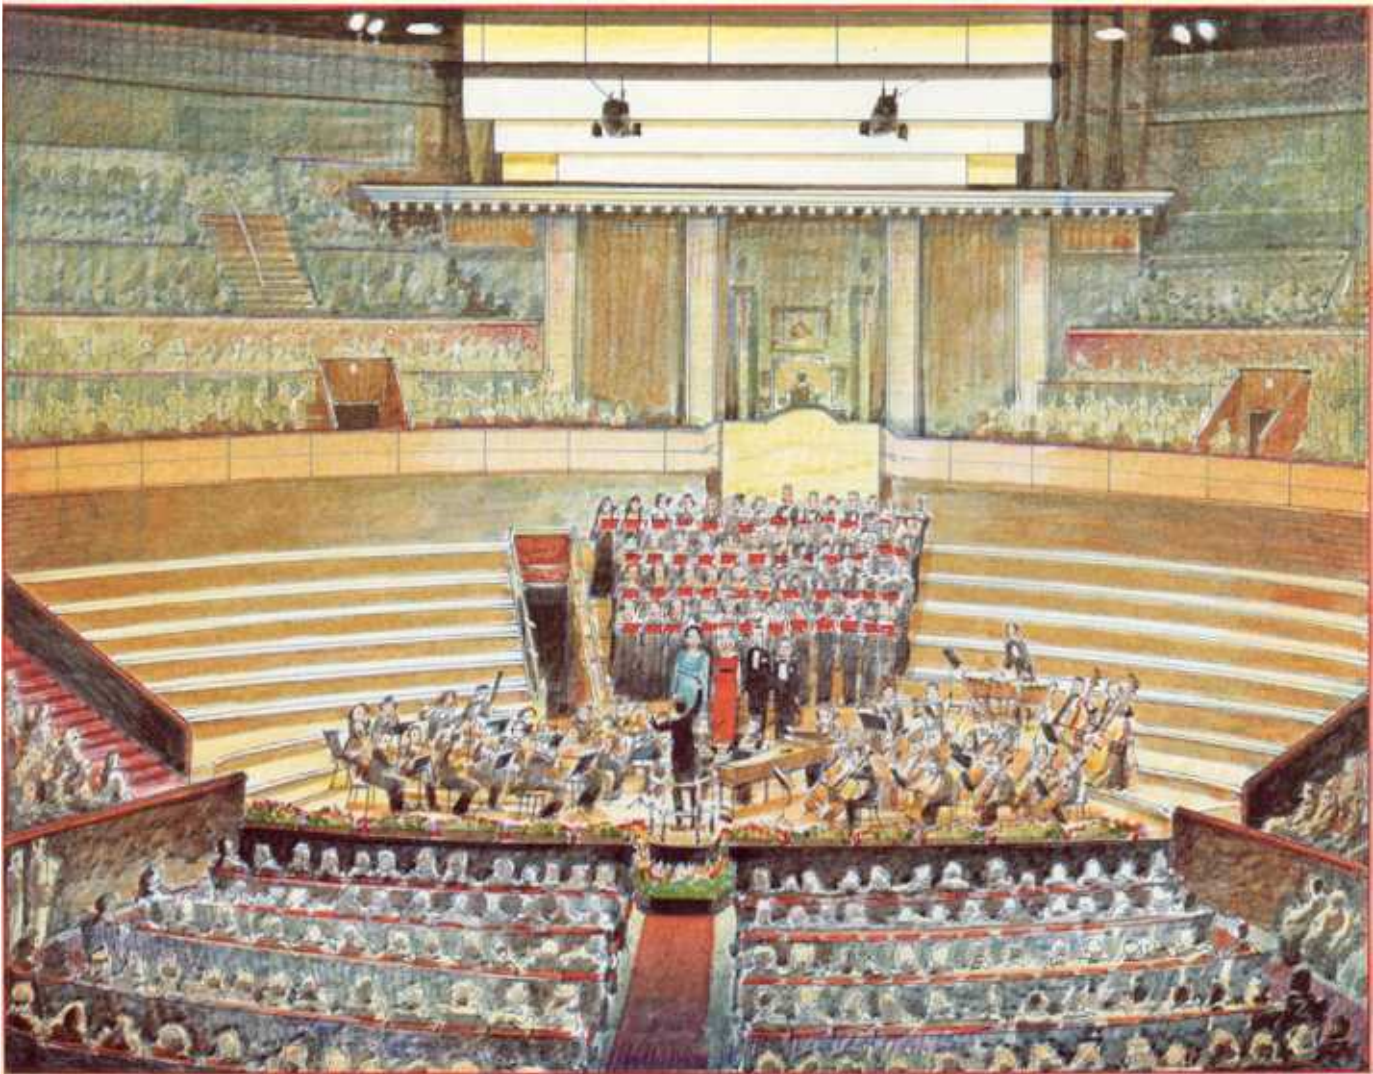

What would you wait a long time in a queue for?

Why does the King suddenly stand up?

Everyone here is enjoying the old man's music.
What would you like to be remembered for?
